

Love-Light-Circle of Jesus Christ

02/28/09

Mediation:

Softly the song we sang resounds: “My child, I love you.” We raise our vibration into this love. It takes hold of us more and more deeply. All our humanness grows dim in this love, in this light. Warmth is spreading out, and our heart is growing light and wide.

Mentally we spread out our arms, as if to embrace our brothers and sisters, as if we wanted to embrace the entire creation, with a love as we have been looking for, for some time, but never found. Now, however, we feel a breath of this love deep in our heart. Yes, we are virtually embedded in it. It is the love of our FATHER, Who is holding us in His arms, Who is carrying, guiding, and leading us on our Way to Him in our hearts.

Peace, peace, so it resounds in our hearts, and from afar we perceive soft singing. Melodies reach our ear, touching us softly. It is a song of praise for the glory of our heavenly FATHER. We join into this choir, and with love and devotion we bow before Him, singing: “Holy art Thou, holy our LORD and GOD, praise and honor is Yours!” Thus it rejoices and resounds. Surrounded by heavenly hosts we celebrate with our beloved FATHER, our LORD and GOD. Our soul and body are pervaded by this love and resonate in the rhythm of love, in the breath of GOD.

Joyfully we now walk this Earth. We now feel a heavenly joy. We resolve to radiate this power of joy to creation with every step we take, in our love and devotion to GOD. For this, GOD gives us His blessing. And whenever we experience life’s difficulties, we will look at Him, look mentally into His face, from which streams forth to us an immeasurable love. We feel his protective hand, think of His love which gives us warmth and safety.

We hear His words: “My child, I am right here, I am after all walking along with you! If you are frightened, give Me your fear. Come, lay all your burdens before Me. I am here for you. Stay with me but for a moment, now, come! And now live with Me for the next moment! And so moment by moment becomes a while, and you will walk this Earth transformed, as My children, as My sons and daughters. Thus you spread love and mercy, which I have placed into your inner being and which now emanates among you.”

We behold Him and see a smile full of benevolence, love and warmth. We say: “Thank you FATHER, thank you o LORD, o BELOVED!” Yes, we want to continue our path with You, looking to You for everything and in everything that happens, to You the LOVE, and we fulfill what we resolved to do. In these thoughts, we come back to this room, feel our bodies, look at Him once more, for HE is in our midst. Thank You again FATHER! We are looking forward to Your Word of Revelation.

Amen.

Divine Revelations from Wisdom

Infinite love fills this room. Infinite love has touched your hearts and has opened them for Me, Who Am in your midst. Love is My nature and love is your nature and in accordance with the spiritual law of attraction, I draw you and every man and soul to My heart. As love, I have come into this world in order to help and redeem all that was bound. This same love I lived for My own and made it the foundation for new thinking and new action, which was solely based on Me, the LOVE.

Many years have passed since then, and in many aspects My teaching of love was changed unrecognizably. These were merely brief victories wrought by the darkness. The SPIRIT of LOVE and LIFE can neither be silenced nor erased. That is why I raise My WORD wherever I please and where it is appropriate in order to be helpful for My human children on their path.

The core of My teaching was that man should change toward the good, that he would recognize his faults and weaknesses and resolve, by his own free will, to cause these changes in his life. To believe in Me and to know me can only be the basis for change, but it does not substitute the work on oneself that is connected for every one of you. I call this work the “Inner work”. It is all about this inner work, for the purpose of making a change out of love for Me and done with My power, which dwells within man.

Everything that happened in the course of time in the last analysis points to this change. Without your voluntary change, these My words mean nothing. Because of this I will, in the future too, speak about change, from the level of Wisdom, and will give you the tools necessary for the world to change for the better. For the changes to strive for primarily have to do with you yourselves.

On a different occasion I gave you an explanation, which I will repeat, albeit not in such detail. He who wants to change something has to move something. Many of My children are under the erroneous perception that they have already changed a great deal. Inasmuch as I rejoice over every step you take, I have to warn you not to deceive yourselves. He who moves [forward], I repeat, must find himself, after a certain period, in different surroundings, different situation, with different people; for then he has left his former aim. If he opens his eyes and sees himself still in the same surroundings as before, he can tell himself a hundred times that he has moved [forward], he has remained the same, nevertheless.

Movement means change. The point of inversion which should be helpful to you is to ask yourselves: “In what points have I changed since I know the LORD, since I love Him and work with Him?” Has your patience grown, My child? Do you like yourselves more than before? Has being in a rush become foreign to you? Are you now in better control of your negative emotions? Such things and many others point to your having moved forward. I am happy with you, for together we have done good work.

If your taking stock honestly has shown you that, even though you had good intentions, there was little movement on your part, I will give you another tip to help you find the reason for your stagnation. Ask yourselves why that which you had intended did not take place, and be truly honest with yourselves: Did you really want to [have the particular thing happen?] Did fear rise up in you? What inhibited you? Something had to happen to prevent your learning steps as big as you wanted them to be.

See, My child, come to Me with these realizations, and if you shed a tear or two over this, let them flow. They will enlarge your hearts and strengthen your resolve to do a better job next time. Come to Me! You have the most faithful friend with you, the greatest love, the encompassing omnipotence. If you believe in Me and love Me, you cannot possibly believe that there would be even one problem I cannot solve.

Therefore, My child, if, in your opinion, you determine your movement too small, come to Me again, extend your hand to Me and look to Me! You don't even have to formulate your request of help. Let the wish rise from your heart to change something with Me, verily I say unto you, if your wish is meant earnestly, the change will take place.

This is the task of My messengers to which they have agreed: To be example, to show the world how change can be achieved; that man, once he has gone the Way with Me for a time, full of love and trust, is no longer the same person as he was in the beginning of his path. I make this My central issue because not one person in the world is exempt from this inner work, whether he knows Me or not, whether he believes in Me or not; whether he gives My Word or reads or hears it. Every one must do this inner work on his way back to My heart!

Do not let the word "work" scare you off, My child; I do for you the greater part of the work. But whatever you still must learn is good for your development, that is what I will leave for you to do, yet even there I will help you. Infinite love is at your side. Infinite love goes through the day with you, if you so wish, and infinite love will change you so that you can proclaim of My love by your life.

Amen.

Divine Revelation through Mercy

My beloved, infinite love surrounds you, and this not only now, that your hearts have opened wide and you are beholding Me with your eyes, saying: "Yes, FATHER, You are truly among us." No, My beloved, even when you walk through your days, I AM with you with My infinite love. Then I too have My heart opened widely as right now, and infinite Mercy flows toward you. Flames of love are blazing up in your hearts right now. It is a huge flame of love which spreads out over this room and throughout creation. This flame of love becomes one with the flames of love of all Love-Light-Circles and unifies with Me; and I will increase the fire with My love; and this unfathomably great love streams back to you.

A sea from My Love-Mercy surrounds you, and you are immersed in this sea. You are letting the waves of this ocean carry you. With every word that I now speak to you, you walk on waves of this ocean further and further out into the infinity of love. You feel well and safe. You know that you are now infinitely near to Me. Verily, I say unto you: “You are resting at My FATHER-HEART. Every single one of you is lying in My arms, and I Am holding you tightly in My arms.”

You feel the heartbeat of My loving heart. “My child, I love you,” you now hear My heart say. “My child, I love you,” it resounds loudly through the depths of creation, even to all those who cannot hear My words or do not wish to hear them. My child, I love you. I cannot help but do so, for I Am your FATHER, a father who is purest love; and I am longing for you so very much. Oh, come to Me, all of you who are sad, sick, depressed; come to Me. Come to My heart, and I will refresh you!

Even you who are still full of hatred and rage, come to My HEART OF LOVE, and you will see how your thoughts become like meek sheep. Yes, My beloved, the love streams out in infinite fullness, and My mercy crowns My work of love. Love and Mercy change creation. With this love and mercy, which I give you out of My grace, you can achieve all those changes – if you so wish – the changes of which we previously spoke.

If there are paths before you that you don’t dare go, if there are steps to be taken that seem too hard for you, My beloved, come onto My heart. Then, when you hear: “My child, I love you,” do you believe that the path is too long? Do you believe that you cannot go down a certain way because it is too hard? No, My beloved, when you are with Me like this, and when you say: “Yes, FATHER, with You,” then I will truly let you grow wings, and with these wings your paths will be easier, the ways shorter, and in truth it is I Who is carrying you.

You all know of the picture with the footsteps in the sand, where I had carried My child who had sadly accused Me and said: “FATHER, where were You?” And I said: Look at the footsteps! You recognize two marks, yours and Mine. But from that point on, where you see only one of the marks, oh see, I did not forsake you, as you thought, but have carried you.”

So it is, My beloved. When the paths are hard, when the task you should be doing worry and frighten you, then come to Me, and I will carry you. I will be your wings. Trust in Me, My beloved! Trust in My love, trust in My Mercy!

When you come to Me with honest and open hearts and ask Me [anything], then I will fulfill your request, even before you have expressed it to Me; for I have already read it in your hearts. Thus I help you on your way, and I know, My beloved, that your path is not always easy and that the storms are taking a lot out of you, especially the storms of the present age. However, whenever you feel lost, I reach for My merciful Love and, believe Me, a few drops of it are sufficient to strengthen you once again and fill you with confidence, and you will see that the storms will abate.

So walk at My hand, My beloved sons and daughters, and rest at My heart. Then I will always be near to you and to the paths with you of this Earth! Be blessed! Let My Love-Mercy stream into your hearts once more until they are full to the brim. You receive them (Love-Mercy) as a gift from Me. But don’t hold on to My Love-Mercy, but pass them on. Yes, My beloved, you can bless others with them, such as your brothers and sisters, nature, creation, and the spiritual worlds.

Everything is grateful, everything absorbs My Love-Mercy. And all the love, all the mercy, which you pass on, comes back to you. It is your wages, which I, your heavenly FATHER give to you. In this way, your paths over this Earth become more and more wonderful. You walk at My hand. You feel that I am at your side, and in your hearts you are hearing My voice. Yes, I Am speaking with you directly; and you will hear My WORD in you, saying: “My child, I love you!”

Divine Revelation from the level of Love

From the level of Wisdom I have admonished you, from My Mercy I have strengthened you, and now I speak from My love to you, My sons and daughters.

Two-thousand years ago, I said to My Apostles: “Watch and pray,” when I stood on the Mount of Olives, when I received the chalice and emptied it to the bottom. Three times I found My disciples asleep. I (now) call out into the world: “Which ones of My children are still sleeping? I am awakening you! Awaken so that you may pray and keep watch in this age, during which the darkness pits itself with all its might against the light!”

You should move My words in your hearts, even if they sound serious, and I repeat: Movement brings change. When you receive My words within you and translate them into the deed, it will bring change in your human behavior as well. My love has to admonish. Did I not say: “Whosoever loves Me, come, take your cross upon you and follow Me?”

Behold My life on earth, by what was it characterized? By mercy, by the love for My human brothers and sisters, but also by My earnest evaluation of the scribes who lastly nailed Me to the cross. The letter of the law was more important to them than the spark of love, which is present in every one of My children.

In the scribes, this love remained but a spark, but in My disciples the love turned into a fire. Still, this fire was not enough to have them own up to knowing Me during the night of My arrest. Even Peter denied knowing Me.

Who among you fears the world and denies Me? Who is under the fire of My irradiating love and admits knowing Me, the LORD and GOD, JESUS CHRIST? This name has the meaning of the cross: JESUS the vertical beam, CHRIST the horizontal beam. All those of My children who love Me, who take up their cross in order to follow Me, are marked with this sign.

This My following often goes by way of the personal cross, through pain and sorrow. But especially then I am most near to My children; for they recognize in the pain and sorrow the Way through Golgotha. I your LORD and GOD radiate to My children power and strength, when they believe they are going the way all alone in their sorrow. Yes, verily, in their sorrow, I carry My children, I carry you. For by My cross, I have taken from you many a burden, so that you may breathe easier and thus go the way back to My FATHER HEART, in connection with the commission you once took upon yourselves.

My sons and daughters, the night is cold and dark, and few lights are shining on the way through the darkness. Viewed spiritually, this Earth is a place of darkness, and hordes of spirits are fighting to take over your souls. But what can they do if your heart is with Me?

I take you by the hand, just as I took Peter, when he sank in the waves because he lost faith that the water could hold him. I saved him, and thus I save every one of My children when they call upon Me in their need, because they are in danger of drowning in the floods.

My word goes about the earth. I was never silent. I have, throughout the past two-thousand years, spoken to My fold, again and again; and not only to My fold, but to those in other stables as well, as I have told you. Every child who translates love in the deed, no matter in which community or religion, regardless of what skin color or nationality, is provided with the cross, as long he tries to live love.

There is a second way: transforming your human being through love. In that case too you are moving and do not remain the same Adam; for the latter has to be stripped so that you can become the radiant being of light, clothed in the earthly garment, and so that you can work for Me, in full power, when the time becomes even more serious.

Strive toward this love in your daily lives, the love toward your fellow man, even if he hurts you or made you feel sorrowful: Forgive him and bless him in My name. And I say unto you, this gesture lets a most beautiful, heavenly light develop in our heart which is of an indescribable beauty. Did I not say: "Love your enemy; do good those who hate you?" He, who goes this path and with honest heart strives to let his enemy become his friend, has understood that love has changed him into the being of light he is in his innermost being.

You spoke about the soul-shadows. Verily, every human child is enveloped by these shadows, one more, the other less. As long as you walk on Earth, these shadows will accompany you. For if you were free of any and all shadows, that is, pure spirit, you would de-materialize, be light of My Light, unified with the PRIMORDIAL LIGHT, that I AM. This PRIMORDIAL LIGHT can only shine on this Earth if it is enveloped by shadows. You should look at your fellow-man from this aspect as well.

Again you are going through another Lent season and are preparing for Easter. Easter is the feast of resurrection. Do you truly want to celebrate resurrection with Me? I put this question to your heart. Do you want to go through this time of preparation consciously, take your cross upon yourselves and follow Me? If you do, look around you in love, bless creation and bless each and every one of your brothers and sisters in My name and try to love them, no matter how they might act toward you today.

You cannot do this from one moment to the next. But if you are willing to concentrate yourselves upon the resurrection of My SPIRIT in you during this season of Lent, I will help you do this. I will then take many a bitter thought which pains you from your hearts; thoughts that have brought you psychic pain, but you must want to; for since you have free will, I cannot interfere unless you are willing to turn such thoughts over to Me and let me transform them to love. Then I can help you. And I promise you that you will, by your honest endeavor, transform to love.

This is what is meant by this sentence: "Take your cross upon yourselves and follow Me in this Lent season and beyond!" And Easter Night you will proclaim full of joy: "CHRIST is risen, so am I." A holy shower of love will envelop you, and for one or the other of you, who walked the Way full of earnest striving, I can take the blinders from the eyes; and he or she sees the glory of the heavens. Yes, he or she sees Me, the resurrected LORD and GOD, albeit softened for your inner eyes, otherwise you would burn from My light and fire. However, you will have the sensations of unity between FATHER and child, as you cannot yet imagine it.

So I stand before every single one of you asking: “Do you want to follow Me and willingly bear your cross?” If yes, so come! With certain impulses I will show every child how he or she is to transform himself or herself toward love. Any hatred, every negative sensation or hurt feelings will withdraw from you, joy enters in, which you can only experience if you walk in My footsteps.

I am going through the rows, ask My question in your inner being and draw the sign of the cross upon your foreheads, which is to be taken as My call to you. As I spoke on the cross: “FATHER, forgive them, for they know not what they do!”, in this same way you should forgive all those who made your path through Earth hard for you. Forgive them under the sign of the cross. In reality, they have helped you to outgrow your human being and to find the way to your true being, to the angel from the kingdom of heaven, which you are in your innermost being.

I will grow silent now, sense Me when I am near you.----

Once more I bless you here in this circle and all those who are reading My word and are moving them in your hearts. I bless all My children, even you who are still against Me. I bless My creation.

Amen.
