Meditation from the level of divine Patience

My beloved children, today I will guide you through a meditation. Take each other (mentally) by the hand; I AM in your midst! Together, let us take a walk in green nature. We are crossing a meadow, one step after another; some of you prefer to go barefoot, feeling the damp grass under your feet.

Your eyes are wandering over the meadows and fields, and My love streams towards you. With every step you are leaving the daily trudge behind you. You are inhaling fresh air, it is My love, and you are exhaling all that, which is still on your mind.

The longer we walk, the lighter you are becoming, and your gaze goes into your heart. With your senses, you listen for creation. Yes, you see the wind gently brushing over the ears of corn and the butterflies dance round about you. You hear birds singing for My glory. A song rises in your hearts also, for My honor and joy, and your joy as well, for I want to fill you with My joy. Gaze far and wide and look all about you! With joy in your hearts, you begin to sing a song, praise and thanksgiving are flooding you.

We are now nearing a forest. Just before, there is an open knoll, where we begin to sit down on the ground, which was warmed by the sun. You too are touched by the warming sunrays and by My love-rays in your hearts that open wide for Me.

I look at you with the eyes of love and I smile at you. Yes, I whisper into every single one of your hearts. I walk over to each of you and stroke your head, saying: "My child, I love you. Come, put your head on My breast and snuggle up to Me, and you will feel My nearness and your refuge! I give you My Word, which is omnipresent in your innermost being. When you are in the stillness, listening, you can hear and understand, and speak with Me. I long for this, I Am your FATHER, My child. I love you."

Let us now continue our walk together! When you return to your daily grind, take time, again and again, to go into the stillness in order to listen to My WORD of Love and feel My nearness! My love envelopes you, accompanies you, and My blessing is with you and My WORD of Revelation is among you.

Amen.

Divine Revelation from the Level of Love

My beloved Friends, I gaze at this circle, looking deep into your hearts. In all of you, I see the brightly burning flames of love for Me, your FRIEND JESUS, Who is your FATHER as well, a FATHER Who takes His child unto his bosom with fervent love, Who consoles and strokes his/her head, saying: "My son, My daughter, why do you make your life on earth so extra hard? Rest your tired head on My shoulder. Let Me hold you! Sense that you are My beloved child and that there is nothing between you and Me. Isn't this wonderful? Why do you gaze into the world sadly because of what you suffered in times past? Rejoice for having placed one foot upon heaven's steps and that even as a human being you ascend abidingly, from now on, in order to come nearer to My loving heart.

In the world you will find no comfort. I am the Comforter. In the world, people have thrown you off the track. I, on the other hand, have cleared the way for you. Sense your being, as it opens up, allowing My love to irradiate you, (as I) make you Mine in soul and human being, inasmuch as you allow it right now! With your spirit I Am one, FATHER and child, there is no separation. My spirit as well as your spirit is one, as all spirit is one."

Why do I walk through the plant world with you? So that you may find your way back to unity. Everything is interdependent. My wheel of creation is set up as such that one gear wheel meshes with the next. If one would break off, my creation would stand still. The sun would no longer move, your earth and all stars would stand still. There is no immobility in My divine Order. Therefore, there is in your seeming standstill a continued ascent on the ladder to heaven.

You are lacking the overview of your past, of all that which your soul bears, and it would not be good, either, if you would know about the details of your incarnations. I have fixed it wisely that the mantel of non-remembrance (oblivion?) is placed over an earthly life, and that you My sons and daughters, My friends, are only guided to what still lies within the soul by way of your emotions.

Your earthly parents may have made mistakes while raising you, but I, your Heavenly Father do not make mistakes. This is why I can explain everything that has happened to you and can take the heaviness of your hearts from you. Yet, since you have free will, I can only do so if you allow it, and if you come to Me with everything and say to Me: "FATHER help me, I don't know what to do!"

When I sojourned through the land with My disciples, they (male and female) had difficulties as you do. They could not run from their problems and difficulties, even though they followed Me as My disciples, because they carried these problems and difficulties with them as their back pack.

One time we walked by a corn field. I pointed to the fruit, the grain and said to My disciples: "Oh see, just as these ears bear many kernels, so does the human being bear his harvest within him. All that, which was not mastered in a past life, the soul bears as fruit. You can recognize the fruit by your behavior toward your fellow-man and toward creation. By this behavior, your emotions, you recognize the fruits.

Does it make sense to learn to know the seed, that is, to ponder the mistakes made in past lives, mistakes that caused the fruit? It does not. For this reason I have spread over it the mantle of oblivion; and if a certain woe breaks forth from the soul, then this woe is a sign of a fruit from former days.

My disciples gathered around Me and showed Me their fruits. We rested at the edge of a corn field on a meadow, and I said to them: "See, by the kind of fruit, the kind of emotion you display, you (can) recognize what still lies within you. How can you remove these bad fruits quickly, since you wish to bring only good fruits into your barns? An example: Anger at your neighbor rises up within you. You look at the anger and at the human being with whom it is connected. In the stillness you bless him. You look at Me and you say: "My JESUS, I just recognized myself in my anger. I give you this negative fruit." And already, My beloved friends, this negative fruit is taken from you, and I, JESUS, turn it over to the fire of purification. Know, whosoever dedicates his life to Me here on earth, to Him I shall give every kind of help so that nothing hinders him in his love-service to his fellow-man and creation.

Give to Me also every kind of woe that rises up from the depth of your soul! Lean on Me even more profoundly (than you are doing right now), and you will become free of all that is still buried in your soul - free in order to serve Me joyfully, as you are now doing. These are good fruits, which you are gathering in your barns. You will joyfully look back upon them when you enter the spiritual spheres.

Again and again I speak to My children in parables, and I do so with you, My friends, so that you may better understand Me.

Oh see, in many an ear, one toxic mother kernel is hidden, which can defile the entire loaf of bread. So, take a look at this dark kernel, how it poisons your soul, dragging your human being into the depth. So may you come to Me with everything that bothers you. Don't think: "Oh, FATHER, I have come to you so many times with the problem I carry around with me, that I don't dare any more to bother you with the old stories." I answer you, My child: "See, no matter how often you may come to Me, I love you, and I need you.

Once upon a time, you stood before Me in the Holy of Holies before the holy Hearth, bowed your head and said: "I want to follow You, my JESUS. I want to go to Earth and serve you there with all my strength and with the indwelling power of a son, a daughter." I have blessed you, My child. The cross upon your forehead is shining visibly from afar even in your earthly garment. It marks you as one born of the heavens, yet you are a human being, as are all other human beings, and you must struggle and fight with all the injustices of the earthly existence.

I have told you this ahead of time, this and more. You did not enter the earthly garment blindly. Imagine, in a quiet hour, how you stood before Me in the heavenly world, how I blessed you and took you into My arms and said: "May you My son, My daughter never forget that heaven is your home, and that you bear the sacred heritage, the divine filial status within you. Yes, you have set it at My feet, in order to re-acquire it anew while upon earth, and to bring it unto Me as sacrificial gift.

The love, which is at home in heaven, irradiates every being gloriously and with a power that is indescribable. This love also irradiates you in the human garment, only you cannot fathom this love, this is why I soften it. What role do the individual incarnations play before the background of this all-encompassing love, where one is there for all and all for one? Past, present, and future are nothing compared with eternity, (which is a place) where love rules.

I JESUS have gone the Way before you. I know about the difficulties on earth. Even now I am going with each one of you on your life's path as your good FRIEND, at your very side. I teach you to develop the love for the mineral, plant, and animal world, and for the nature beings, because this love is still easy as there, negative resonances are relatively rare. By way of this love, you climb up the heavenly ladder, thus growing into the All-love, step by step.

The All-love is not My privilege but the privilege of us all. You are born of love, crowned by mercy, enveloped by meekness, humility, patience, and order; will, and wisdom, as well as earnest are inherently part of My child-creatures. However, the greatest of these is love. When you strive for love earnestly, blessing those, time and again, who are not on the same wave length as you, love will spread out.

It is a divine law that love which is practiced does not increase by multiplication alone but does so exponentially. With every blessing thought, the potential of your love is greatly raised. After a while, you will walk the streets of this world, and love will flow to your neighbor, a love that is not of this world but a heavenly love, the All-love. It does not only flow to your fellow humans but to all of creation. It accompanies inner vision, that is, you know from one moment to the next why your parents, teachers, or friends have behaved in such or such a way. In addition, you can see into the inner being of all the people you meet and you will add to your greeting of blessing thoughts of salvation, meant for body and soul.

However, don't think that from then on you are walking this earth as perfect beings. You will continue to fall back to old patterns of behavior, which I will leave with you so that you may not raise yourselves proudly over your brothers and sisters. You will also keep some weaknesses and faults, to which you have become accustomed in this life. The important thing for you is to keep coming to Me with these things even then, and say, for instance: "Oh Lord, I thought I had discarded the old Adam by now, but I am still dragging it along with me. Please help me so that I can take it off at least to some extent!"

Can you sense the love that radiates into you by My WORD? Both of us, you My child and I, go this earthly Way together, what can possibly sadden you? (My Love, sense how I am standing before you! Once more I ask you to put your heavy head on My shoulder and have a good cry! I Am the FRIEND at your side.

Now I return to the schooling. Times will change. I Am not a GOD Who wants to frighten you. No, I Am a GOD of Love. I Am the One and ONLY LORD of the heavens and earth and My scepter is Love.

When prophets gave warnings in former times, it was different from today. I spoke through them in the era when causes were set, and I warned the people about the effects these causes would someday have. You, however, are right now in the midst of the effects of the former causes. Therefore, I as loving FATHER can only encourage you and give you hope. Isn't what you see round about you bad enough, how the elements are rearing up, and bringing desolation to the earth as well as many other things? Should I as your GOD and LORD punish you on top of that? No, I console you in the midst of the devastation happening all over the earth and say: "I Am your GOOD SHEPHERD, I guide you out of all distress."

You will soon find out the reason why you should awaken your love for the mineral and plant life; for you need creation about you, which does not only want to revolt against man, but is also willing to serve man once again, when man turns back. Fields that hardly bear any fruit anymore shall become fruitful once again by your blessing love. Therefore, practice the love for all being; for it is prerequisite for Me to be able to guide you through hunger and need, so that those who lean on Me must not suffer it.

I prophesied again: An era of love and peace is coming - the Golden Era. When the poverty (distress) is at its worst, the birth of the new age is directly at hand. Therefore, do not fear but learn to love! Love the little blade of grass as much as the tree bearing golden apples. Grow more and yet much more deeply toward the love for all being, so that you will be the precursors of this Golden Era! You will actualize love in the deed, and the fields will once again bear rich fruit, the waters will be once again clear and pure, no longer defiled. You will walk the meadows with blessing and prayerful thoughts, and you will be example for your brothers and sisters. They (will) have lost everything and believe not to be able to live without the magnificence of the past age. They will gaze into your shining faces, glowing with love, and will be amazed.

An apple tree is nearby; you go over, pick an apple and hand it to your brother or sister. As of yet, there is murmuring, such as: "Am I supposed to get full from this one apple?" In the stillness, you (will) bless the brother/sister, asking: "Eat it, my brother, my sister!" The apple will be one of delicious sweetness, as it grows nowhere on this earth at this present age. The love (you sent) and the blessing have caused this fully ripe sweetness, and the hunger of your brother or sister is satisfied in a wonderful way.

This was a prospect to give you hope and consolation. Once more I say: "Fear not, even if the media give you ever such bleak news!" Fear not, for I Am the GOOD SHEPHERD, and I will lead My fold and all those who will join the fold, will lead you through all woe to a kingdom of peace and love.

May you, in the coming time, dedicate yourselves once more to the love for the plant world. Thank the apple before you consume it, thank the vegetable, and be thankful for all of it, for thankfulness is love! Do not forget that I JESUS, your FRIEND and BROTHER, walk at your side and that I carry you through difficult situations! You can come to Me with everything, and I will help you with everything.

I bless you, and I will draw every single one of you to My heart while I walk around in this circle. I love you My son, I love you My daughter!

Peace be with you and also with all of you who read My words and move them in their heart!

Amen.
